Ms. Raesa Razeen

Assistant Professor

Department of Data Science

I am currently working as Assistant Professor in the Department of Data Science at T. John Institute of Technology. With more than a 2+years of academic experience, I have consistently contributed to student development through effective teaching and mentorship.

I hold an M. Tech from Computer Science & Engineering (AI & ML) | PES University, Bangalore | 2020 - 2022 and B.E. - Computer Science & Engineering | KNS Institute of Technology, Bangalore | 2016 – 2020. My academic background reflects my commitment to continuous learning and professional development.

I worked as an Assistant Professor from April 2024 to April 2026. These roles helped me gain valuable technical and industry experience that supports my teaching career. My areas of expertise include GenAI | LLMs | Agentic AI | RAG | Prompt Engineering.

In addition to teaching, I guide students in academic projects and encourage them to participate in extracurricular activities. I also contribute to institutional development by organizing seminars, conferences, and academic events.

Through my knowledge, teaching skills, and commitment to education, I strive to inspire students and contribute to academic excellence in the field of Computer Science.
